U.S. TROOPS BEAT OFF HEAVY GERMAN ATTACK

The War Today..

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

THE MADNESS of Hitler's last ditch stand, in which he is sacrificing his fatherland in a despairing effort to save his own life, is one of the amazing pages of history.

Having become accustomed to the upheavals of his abnormal mind, one isn't surprised at the violence of the new order to his troops to hang on at all costs in face of the great new Russian offensive. He runs true to type in reviving his old role of Frankenstein and bringing out what he often has described as the Bolshevik monster to terrify the German public.

The Fuehrer declares that the "Jewish-Bolshevik arch enemy" is "trying to wipe out our people." He shouts that "while old men and children are being murdered, women and girls are being reduced to the status of prostitutes, and remain-der led away to Siberia," down the Bolshevik assault in a blood bath.

That would be a strange document from anyone but Hitler. This man raves of murder and prostitution when he himself has given orders for the slaughter of countless thousands of civilians and has made brood animals out of Germany's young girls by teaching them to have babies out of wedlock as a patriotic duty so the Reich might have more men for cannon fodder.

Hitler's order of the day doesn't mention the Western Allies. It deals only with the "Bolsheviks." This Bolshevik theme has been one of the main planks in his platform ever since he started his climb to power, and he has hammered so consistently on it that many of the German people undoubtedly are fearful of the Soviet union.

It's safe to say Hitler himself is afraid of the Russians—with good reason. He double-crossed them and broke his bond when he made war on them. He has carried out terrible atrocities on Russian territory. Certainly Moscow has no love for the Nazi dictator and would like to put hands on him.

However, it's interesting that just prior to Hitler's order of the day, Turn to WAR TODAY, Page 8

YANK AIRMEN DESTROY 1,116 ENEMY PLANES

Luftwaffe Is Knocked Out, Says Official After Big Reich Raid

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, April 17.—Approximately 1,000 American heavy bombers ripped German railways at Dresden and along the Czechoslovak frontier to the south today while the destruction of the Luftwaffe was continued by fighter pilots who knocked out 1,116 planes yesterday.

Revised total showed that during the first 16 days of April 3,899 German planes were destroyed. Allied losses for the same period totaled 485 planes.

Heavy planes represent about half of the estimated reserve strength of the German air force at the time of the Rhine crossing.

"The Luftwaffe has been knocked out," said one highly placed official.

Months of bombing of German oil plants had had their effect. The German air force had ample planes in reserve—probably 3,500—but at the crucial moment there was no fuel to get them into the air.

No Bombing Letup
There was no letup in the heavy bombing campaign which Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, commander of the U. S. Strategic Air Forces in Europe, declared last night had switched from strategic to a purely tactical job in support of the ground forces.

As he was issuing an order of the day to American airmen saying the strategic air war had been won, British heavy bombers were winging their way to Czechoslovakia and southern Germany, where they attacked German rail bottlenecks in support of the American Third and Seventh armies.

During the night RAF Mosquitos bombed Berlin and Munich, where headquarters for the defense of southern Germany has been reported temporarily centered.

United States Eighth Air Force fighters set the pace in yesterday's free-for-all Luftwaffe hunt with at least 647 enemy planes destroyed.

The Eighth force announced eight heavy bombers and 34 fighters were missing from yesterday's operations, carried out by nearly 2,100 planes.

In what a field correspondent called "the first tactical joining of the east and west air fronts," American and Russian fighter planes met and exchanged greetings yesterday over the central German battle zone.

PFC. E. R. FLUHARTY REPORTED KILLED

Mrs. Ernest R. Fluharty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. August of the Goshen road, has received word that her husband, Pfc. Ernest R. Fluharty of Mannington, W. Va., was killed in action in Europe March 4.

Previously reported missing in action, Pfc. Fluharty was serving with the U. S. infantry in Germany. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Fluharty of Mannington, Mrs. Blaine Boothe of the Georgetown road is a sister.

Staff Sgt. George R. August, Pvt. Charles W. August and Staff Sgt. Alfred August, all of Salem, are brothers of Mrs. Fluharty. The latter is now in Deshon General hospital recovering from wounds received in France; the others are overseas.

HIGHWAY JOB AID IS SOUGHT

State Enlists Counties' Support In Drafting Post-war Plans

COLUMBUS, April 17.—The state highway department today enlisted the aid of county engineers and commissioners in drafting Ohio's biggest road improvement program.

Highway Director Perry T. Ford announced that both engineer and commissioner associations had agreed to assist the department in selecting farm-to-market and other "feeder" roads to be included in the state's secondary federal-aid system of highways.

Ohio expects to spend nearly $28,000,000 in the three years immediately following the war in its secondary road network, which now approximates 7,000 miles.

The expenditures will be part of a record $120,000,000 outlay scheduled for Ohio under a postwar program of construction authorized by the Federal-Aid Highway act of 1944.

Ohio anticipates receiving $20,000,000 in federal money annually for three years, to be matched equally with state and local funds for a grand total of $120,000,000.

The state highway department last month certified to the Public Roads administration in Washington that it would have matching money available before July 1, 1945, for more than $20,000,000 worth of primary routes, which interlace Ohio with a 7,450-mile net.

Ohio is eligible to receive immediately only $4,000,000 from its first postwar year's $20,000,000 allotment for planning projects, and to undertake such emergency construction as authorized in the near future by the War Production board.

The advance planning is being authorized now, Ford explained, so that Ohio will be ready to embark immediately the war ends on the program of restoring roads which have taken "their worst beating" from war transportation and severe weather with a minimum of repairs.

Secondary road money will be spent on farm-to-market, rural free delivery mail, and public school bus routes and, in addition, may be used to improve pavements on routes inside towns of less than 5,000 inhabitants, Ford said.

Alert Patrolman Arrests Youth Here for Car Theft

Herbert C. Simpson, 18, of Cleveland, was arrested here last night on a charge of having stolen a car, several batteries and two tires in Cleveland some time ago.

Patrolman George Reasch made the arrest after an abundance of red paint on the youth's clothes and some of the stolen equipment aroused his suspicions. Cleveland authorities, who were notified, will return the youth to Cleveland for prosecution.

He had painted the stolen car red and had sold the radio in it.

MOTHER IS GIVEN REFORMATORY TERM

Judge Sentences Salem Woman Who Abandoned 2 Children Feb. 9

Mrs. Anna Sommers Bernard, 27-year-old Salem housewife who abandoned her two children and went with another man to Baltimore last Feb. 9, must serve from one to three years in the women's reformatory at Marysville, Judge Joel H. Sharp ruled yesterday.

The mother of the children, aged 8 and 5, was charged with neglecting minor children. Her husband is serving with the armed forces overseas.

E. R. Bradley, who accompanied her in Bernard's car, is being held by Maryland authorities for selling the car and forging the husband's signature to a bill of sale.

Mrs. Bernard, who had sobbed throughout the hearing at which she pleaded guilty, became hysterical when sentenced was pronounced and was led from the court room by Deputy Sheriff Howard Clark. She will be transported to the Marysville institution the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Bernard, who lived on Pidgeon road just south of the city, was picked up in Baltimore March 4 by Sheriff Hayes, Russell Smith, juvenile officer, filed the charges.

Sherman Garloch was named president of the Prospect school Parent-Teacher association at a meeting last night at the school when officers for the year were chosen. Others are:

First vice president, Mrs. William Bodendorf; second vice president, Mrs. Albert Goodman; secretary, Mrs. Edgar Hunter; treasurer, Mrs. Vincent Domencetti.

Miss Ora Montgomery, principal, who reported on the dental project, stated that as many children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades had dental work done as it was possible to get appointments for. The work done for the students totaled $179.

Mrs. Lowell Brown led a general discussion relating to child health and recreation.

Refreshments were served by mothers of the fifth grade. Mrs. Ralph Gang was chairman of the committee.

The next meeting will be in the afternoon of May 21 when students of the sixth grade will be honored as they are going to Junior High next year.

TRUMAN O.K.'S LEND-LEASE

Signs Extension Bill He Previously Signed As Vice President

WASHINGTON, April 17.—President Truman signed the Lend-Lease extension bill today.

In a statement the President declared the measure a "mighty instrument for victory" and one of the "growing monuments to the boldness, imagination and effective statesmanship of Franklin Roosevelt."

"Lend-lease," he said, "will be carried on until the unconditional surrender or complete defeat of Germany and Japan."

The signing was witnessed by Secretary of State Stettinius, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee, Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), Chairman Bloom (D-N.Y.) of the house of foreign affairs committee, and Rep. Eaton (R-N.J.).

The bill, extending Lend-Lease to the United Nations an additional 12 months from June 30, was signed after the President had conferred briefly with delegates to the forthcoming United Nations conference at San Francisco.

The occasion was historic for several reasons. It was the first time White House attaches could recall in which a President has signed a bill which he previously had signed as vice-president and presiding officer of the senate.

It was the same measure on which Truman voted as vice-president, after the senate had rejected by a 33-39 tie vote an amendment by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) to place new restrictions on the postwar use of lend-lease materials. The vice president cast his vote with the opposition.

3rd Army Now Six Miles From Czech Border

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, April 17.—The Germans launched a heavy attack today on the Ninth army's Elbe bridgehead pointing towards Berlin, but the Americans beat off the attack without losing ground.

To the south, the Third army captured the big Saxony rail center of Plauen, in effect bisecting Germany, and beat down the last six miles to the Czechoslovak border.

More than half of Germany was conquered, 101,000 square miles under Allied and Russian banners and 84,000 square miles remaining to the Germans.

The First army cracked the defenses of Leipzig and fought within sight of the city and also linked up with the Ninth army at Bernburg, 12 miles southeast of Barby, where the Elbe bridgehead is being strengthened.

British armor drove to within 30 miles of Hamburg and 15 of the lower Elbe against resistance deteriorating so rapidly "a quick breakthrough to the river on a broad front can soon be expected," Associated Press Correspondent Robert Wilson reported. The British also besieged Bremen.

The Germans attacked Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's five-mile deep Elbe bridgehead in the Barby sector 52 miles southwest of Berlin with 2,000 infantrymen and 30 tanks. The Second Armored and 83rd Infantry division beat back the Germans—drawn from Berlin and the Eastern front—inflicting serious losses and destroying 15 to 20 of the tanks.

In the center of the Western front, First army troops crashed to within sight of the ruined towers of Leipzig, Germany's fifth city. German military mental cases and uniformed Nazi women auxiliaries were among the captured gunners. The First army knocked out 324 flag fms, bringing the total for four days to 732.

Asylum Inmates In Uniform
The Nazis had turned the center of art, medicine and publishing into one of their main military supply depots. First army officers said some of the defending troops were "jibbering imbeciles and screaming maniacs." Some wore uniforms, some civilian clothes. Some of the alien girls at the defense guns were killed as they fired on American troops.

The Ninth army fought one of the hardest battles of the war on the Brandenburg plain five miles east of the Elbe, within 45 to 52 miles of the beleaguered capital. The First army moved into the Berlin siege arc in the Dessau area 52 miles southwest of the capital. The Russians were reported 23 miles east of Berlin.

Leipzig was virtually encircled, but the 30,000 Nazi troops there were fighting skillfully and resolutely, subjecting the million civilians in the city to the tortures of Stalingrad. (BBC said Leipzig was completely encircled.)

Overrun 63,000 Square Miles
Gen. Omar Bradley's headquarters estimated the Allies in the west had overrun 63,000 square miles and that the Russians had occupied 38,000—a total of 101,000 square miles of Germany. This left the Nazis only about 84,000 square miles of the Festung Germania.

SNYDER IS CHOSEN FEDERAL LOAN HEAD

WASHINGTON, April 17.—President Truman today appointed John W. Snyder of St. Louis, Mo., to be federal loan administrator.

Now vice president of the First National bank of St. Louis, Snyder has been a warm personal friend of the President for more than 25 years.

He succeeds Fred M. Vinson, who was made director of war mobilization and reconversion after James F. Byrnes gave up that post.

Two Die In Collision
FREMONT, April 17.—Norman Maylum, 33, of Gibsonburg, and Mrs. Oscar Bengt, 23, of Fremont, were killed yesterday in the collision of an automobile and a state highway department road grader.

Extend Liquor Curfew
COLUMBUS, April 17.—The mid-night curfew for liquor establishments was extended yesterday by the Ohio Board of Liquor Control to "the end of the present emergency." The 60-day curfew adopted Feb. 26 would have expired April 27.

HIGHWAY JOB AID IS SOUGHT

State Enlists Counties' Support In Drafting Post-war Plans

COLUMBUS, April 17—The state highway department today enlisted the aid of county engineers and commissioners in drafting Ohio's biggest road improvement program.

Highway Director Perry T. Ford announced that both engineer and commissioner associations had agreed to assist the department in selecting farm-to-market and other "feeder" roads to be included in the state's secondary federal-aid system of highways.

Ohio expects to spend nearly $28,000,000 in the three years immediately following the war in its secondary road network, which now approximates 7,000 miles.

The expenditures will be part of a record $120,000,000 outlay scheduled for Ohio under a postwar program of construction authorized by the Federal-Aid Highway act of 1944.

Ohio Anticipation

Ohio anticipates receiving $20,000,000 in federal money annually for three years, to be matched equally with state and local funds for a grand total of $120,000,000.

The state highway department last month certified to the Public Roads administration in Washington that it would have matching money available before July 1, 1946, for more than $20,000,000 worth of primary roads, which interlace Ohio with a 7,450-mile net.

Ohio is eligible to receive immediately $4,000,000 from its first postwar year's $20,000,000 allotment for planning projects, and to undertake such emergency construction as authorized in the near future by the War Production board.

The advance planning is being authorized now, Ford explained, so that Ohio will be ready to embark immediately the war ends on the program of restoring roads which have taken "their worst beating" from war transportation and severe weather with a minimum of repairs.

Secondary road money will be spent on farm-to-market, rural free delivery mail, and public school bus routes and, in addition, may be used to improve pavements on routes in remote towns of less than 5,000 inhabitants, Ford said.

MOTHER IS GIVEN REFORMATORY TERM

Judge Sentences Salem Woman Who Abandoned 2 Children Feb. 9

Mrs. Anna Sommers Bernard, 27-year-old Salem housewife who abandoned her two children and went with another man to Baltimore last Feb. 9, must serve from one to three years in the women's reformatory at Marysville, Judge Joel H. Sharp ruled yesterday.

The mother of the children, aged 8 and 5, was charged with neglecting minor children. Her husband is serving with the armed forces overseas.

E. R. Bradley, who accompanied her in Bernard's car, is being held by Maryland authorities for selling the car and forging the husband's signature to a bill of sale.

Mrs. Bernard, who had sobbed throughout the hearing at which she pleaded guilty, became hysterical when sentenced was pronounced and was led from the court room by Deputy Sheriff Howard Clark. She will be transported to the Marysville institution the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Bernard, who lived on Pidgeon road just south of the city, was picked up in Baltimore March 4 by Sheriff Hayes Russell Smith, juvenile officer, filed the charges.

SANITARY PLANT OVER BOND GOAL

The National Sanitary Co. has just added its name to the list of shops whose employees have gone over their quotas in the Seventh War Loan drive.

In announcing this today, L. W. Nash, chairman of the shop division of the drive, pointed out that, although the drive did not get under way at the Sanitary plant as soon as at other plants, it was among the first to reach its goal. Only five others have done so.

TRUMAN O.K.'S LEND-LEASE

Signs Extension Bill He Previously Signed As Vice President

In a statement the President declared the measure a "mighty instrument for victory" and one of the "growing monuments to the boldness, imagination and effective statesmanship of Franklin Roosevelt."

"Lend-lease," he said, "will be carried on until the unconditional surrender or complete defeat of Germany and Japan."

The signing was witnessed by Secretary of State Stettinius, Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee, Sen. Vandenberg (R-Mich.), Chairman Bloom (D-N.Y.) of the house of foreign affairs committee, and Rep. Eaton (R-N.J.).

The bill, extending Lend-Lease aid to the United Nations an additional 12 months from June 30, was signed after the President had conferred briefly with delegates to the forthcoming United Nations conference at San Francisco.

The occasion was historic for several reasons. It was the first time White House attaches could recall in which a President has signed a bill which he previously had signed as vice-president and presiding officer of the senate.

It was the same measure on which Truman voted as vice-president, after the senate had rejected by a 33-39 tie vote an amendment by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) to place new restrictions on the postwar use of lend-lease materials. The vice president cast his vote with the opposition.

Garloch Named President Of Prospect School PTA

Sherman Garloch was named president of the Prospect school Parent-Teacher association at a meeting last night at the school when officers for the year were chosen. Others are:

First vice president, Mrs. William Bodendorfer; second vice president, Mrs. Albert Goodman; secretary, Mrs. Edgar Hunter; treasurer, Mrs. Miss Doris Dornenetti.

Miss Ora Montgomery, principal, who reported on the dental project, stated that as many children in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades had dental work done as it was possible to get appointments for. The work done for the students totaled $179.

Mrs. Lowell Brown led a general discussion relating to child health and recreation.

Refreshments were served by mothers of the fifth grade. Mrs. Ralph Gang was chairman of the committee.

The next meeting will be in the afternoon of May 21 when students of the sixth grade will be honored as they are going to Junior High next year.

WEST POINT MAN MISSING, Lisbon Soldier Wounded

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 17—Columbiana county listed three more war casualties today.

3rd Army Now Six Miles From Czech Border

By JAMES M. LONG

PARIS, April 17—The Germans launched a heavy attack today on the Ninth army's Elbe bridgehead pointing towards Berlin, but the Americans beat off the attack without losing ground.

To the south, the Third army captured the big Saxony rail center of Plauen, in effect bisecting Germany, and beat down the last six miles to the Czechoslovak border.

More than half of Germany was conquered, 101,000 square miles under Allied and Russian banners and 84,000 square miles remaining to the Germans.

The First army cracked the defenses of Leipzig and fought within sight of the city and also linked up with the Ninth army at Bernburg, 12 miles southeast of Barby, where the Elbe bridgehead is being strengthened.

British armor drove to within 36 miles of Hamburg and 15 of the lower Elbe against resistance deteriorating so rapidly "a quick breakthrough to the river on a broad front can soon be expected," Associated Press Correspondent Robert Wilson reported. The British also besieged Bremen.

The Germans attacked Lt. Gen. William H. Simpson's five-mile deep Elbe bridgehead in the Barby sector 52 miles southwest of Berlin with 2,000 infantrymen and 30 tanks. The Second Armored and 83rd Infantry division beat back the Germans—drawn from Berlin and the Eastern front—inflicting serious losses and destroying 15 to 20 of the tanks.

In the center of the Western front, First army troops crashed to within sight of the ruined towers of Leipzig, Germany's fifth city. German military mental cases and uniformed Nazi women auxiliaries were among the captured gunners. The First army knocked out 324 flak guns, bringing the total for Nazis to 722.

Asylum Inmates In Uniform

The Nazis had turned the center of art, medicine and publishing into one of their main military supply depots. First army officers said some of the defending troops were "jibbering imbeciles and screaming maniacs." Some wore uniforms, some civilian clothes. Some of the sullen girls at the defense guns were killed as they fired on American troops.

The Ninth army fought one of the hardest battles of the war on the Brandenburg plain five miles east of the Elbe, within 45 to 52 miles of the beleaguered capital. The First army moved into the Berlin siege arc in the Dessau area 52 miles southwest of the capital. The Russians were reported 23 miles east of Berlin.

Leipzig was virtually encircled, but the 30,000 Nazi troops there were fighting skillfully and resolutely, subjecting the million civilians in the city to the tortures of Stalingrad. (BBC said Leipzig was completely encircled.)

Overrun 63,000 Square Miles

Gen. Omar Bradley's headquarters estimated the Allies in the west had overrun 63,000 square miles and that the Russians had occupied 38,000—a total of 101,000 square miles of Germany. This left the Nazis only about 84,000 square miles of the Festung Germania.

SNYDER IS CHOSEN FEDERAL LOAN HEAD

Now vice president of the First National bank of St. Louis, Snyder has been a warm personal friend of the President for more than 25 years.

He succeeds Fred M. Vinson, who was made director of war mobilization and reconversion after James F. Byrnes gave up that post.

WASHINGTON, April 17—President Truman today nominated George Smith Patton, Jr., and Courtney Hicks Hodges to be full generals.

Patton commands the Third army and Hodges the First army in the fighting in Nazi Germany. They are under the direction of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander in chief.

The President also sent to the senate the nominations of nine major generals to be lieutenant generals.

Players Club Makes Final Arrangements For Play Next Week

Final details are being worked out this week for the presentation of "Penny Wise," the unique comedy that will mark the close of the current season for the Salem Players club.

The play will be given Wednesday and Thursday, April 25 and 26, in the High school auditorium, with curtain time set for 8:30.

As usual, the production and business staff of the show far exceeds the actual cast, giving practically all members of the club some work to do prior to or during the actual presentation.

Announced by Director Elwood Hammell, the staff for "Penny Wise" will include the following: Business manager, Howard Dodge; stage and promotion, O. E. Anderson; costumes, Mildred Miller; stage setting and make-up, Henrietta Tucker; properties, Harold Parker and Edith Hartsock; tickets, Jean Olmhausen; program, Mrs. Ora E. Anderson; lighting, James Miller; box office, Lodger Caplan and Dodge; house staff, Betty Lau, Rose Marie Bates, Eleanor Stewart, Isabelle Lockhart, Mrs. Howard Dodge, Mrs. William Bodendorfer, Mrs. R. B. Vance and Agnes Grimes; stage assistants, Elden Grove, Richard Callahan, Dodge and James Miller.

The final report and check-up meeting of the entire club prior to the play itself is scheduled for 8 tonight at the club rooms in the Romainian hall. All members are urged to be present.

Beginning A New Cycle

As the heavy impact of Franklin D. Roosevelt's death is cushioned in the days to come by the continuous distractions of new events and developments, it will be plainer than it has been for the last few years that change in all things is inevitable. "Observe always that everything is the result of a change," wrote Marcus Aurelius, "and get used to thinking that there is nothing Nature loves so well as to change existing forms and to make new ones like them."

With the elevation of President Truman to executive leadership of the government, the United States is in the beginning of a new cycle of political experience. Its nature is problematic. Mr. Truman's ideas have not been examined in the glare of publicity that goes with a national campaign. In the 1944 campaign, he merely reflected the political character of the head of the ticket.

He goes into office without the benefit, or perhaps it is the disadvantage, of a legend built up as a campaign background. He begins his presidency without binding commitments and without being identified closely with any one school of political philosophy. His countrymen will discover his presidential character as he goes along. That will be part of the new cycle. Even if he wanted to avert it, he could not do so.

Many of the influences which were conspicuous since 1933 and many more which were powerful without being conspicuous are simply dissolved by the change of chief executives. The men who became Mr. Roosevelt's personal advisers — semi-official figures like Harry Hopkins, Felix Frankfurter, Samuel Rosenman — will not and could not bear the same intimate relationship to Mr. Truman. Their influence was founded on personal friendship and shared habits of thought. Mr. Truman will have to find his own confidantes. Gone, too, will be the not inconsiderable influence wielded by Mrs. Roosevelt on government attitudes and actions.

In a thousand ways, the federal establishment and its complex organization throughout the country and extending into all parts of the world will have to be fitted into a new common denominator. President Truman's expressed desire to carry on with the same policies and in the same character as the late President can be at the most no more than a wish. Inevitably, the character and personality of a chief executive, as well as his principles, are stamped on the government and, subsequently, on the nation.

President Truman's modesty has become at the outset of his administration an asset of incalculable value; it is what his countrymen expect. It has won for him the sympathy and the tolerance he will need to acquit himself of great responsibility.

Japanese Jet Planes

United States bombers flying to targets in Japan now must deal defensively with jet propulsion interceptors. Possession of this ultra-modern weapon by the Japanese, even if they fail to use it with ultra-modern efficiency, will be a serious embarrassment to our bomber squadrons. In the hands of the Germans, jet propulsion interceptors, because of their almost incredible speed, have qualified as one of the most important developments of the war.

The United States is developing jet propulsion engines and planes. It has been stated officially that designs and production machinery for a successful model exist and that prototypes are being manufactured. But the fact is that jet propulsion planes were introduced in the war by the Germans and are in use by both Germany and Japan before the United States is ready to offset them with as fast or faster planes. If our aviators did not have overwhelming superiority in numbers and armament, they would be at a grave disadvantage.

Military strategists and tacticians learn by experience. So do nations. The United States has learned a lesson in this war—that Security Rule No. 1 is never to underestimate an enemy. All our troubles with the Japanese are traceable to that one fatal mistake.

War Without End

The implications of repeated warnings that Germany might never be surrendered by its fanatic governments finally are being comprehended. There has been a crushing military defeat. The German state has been invaded and made helpless. Communiques say there no longer is any organized resistance. But there is resistance, and it promises to continue indefinitely.

War without end is the grim prospect—the same kind of war that was carried on against Germany by those who refused to surrender in France, Norway, Greece, Poland and the invaded areas of Russia. This time the German nation is going to invite a continuation of hostilities after defeat. There apparently is going to be no excuse after World War II to forget the German threat. It will be continuous, in the way that the threat of a dangerous criminal waiting only for a chance to break out of custody is continuous.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, April 18

A HIGHLY stimulating array of astral influences may keep the affairs of this day moving at high tempo, in which the desire to launch new and important projects might high-pressure the mentality, forces, and spirit of initiative into dangerous and difficult situations. An excess of energy or prodigality might create an undercurrent of fraud, treachery and equivocal conditions, unprofitable and exasperating. Contracts and agreements are involved, in both business and private affairs. Possibly an elderly female relation might come to the rescue; but in all, shun extravagance and over-indulgences of all types, mental, emotional, physical for success and pleasant relations.

Those whose birthday it is may find their energies and faculties under high tension, with a determination to put over major projects or keenly cherished desires and objectives, by strenuous, aggressive and telling effort. However, there are oppositions, tricky or cheating personalities and situations to meet with firmness, practical and unflinching energy, minus impetuosity, emotionalism, extravagance and excesses of all description. In crises, the aid of an elderly female relative may be counted upon. Sign all writings and agreements cautiously, and be keen with agencies or possible tricksters.

A child born on this day will have much enterprise, skill and practical ability, with determination and will power to put over important projects against treachery and fraud.

The End of Krupp

By James Thrasher

"Pulverized" was the word used to describe the condition in which the Ninth army found the Krupp munitions works when it entered Essen. But the description applies to more than a group of factories. For a name and an institution and an empire have also been blasted to dust.

For more than a century Krupp was the arm and snout of German militarism. Its guns had ringed besieged Paris in the Franco-Prussian war. Its "Big Bertha" had been the V-bomb of World War I, firing at targets from the incredible distance of 70 miles and more.

Krupp had been a name to be feared, a symbol of German might. And then the ancient symbol was attacked by a weapon which had grown from a flimsy sort of box kite skimming the Carolina sands little more than 40 years before.

Again and again the bombers flew over the once impregnable arsenal of an impregnable country. And when the troops came to Essen they found only dust and rubble to remind them of a fearsome greatness. They found, too, a memorable and equally symbolical proof of the greatness of air power in a changing world.

Manufacturers no longer have to lay aside 50 per cent of their 5-cent candy bars for the armed forces. This should make it easier for Mother to get Sonny to go to the store.

A Michigan girl sends her soldier boy friend a weekly check for 1,000 kisses. Wonder who cashes it for him?

We're heading into the season when fishing makes loafers—or is it, loafers make fishermen?

With everything that's tumbling in on Germany it should not be hard for Hitler to go underground.

The Light That Must Not Fail

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Effects of Fear or Worry Upon Skin Disorders

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

MORE and more in recent times there has come the realization that a number of disorders are produced by nervous or psychologic disturbances. Thus, according to Doctor John T. Ingram of the University of Leeds, many persons develop skin eruptions such as seborrhea and eczema as well as excessive sweating with redness of the skin, and scaling.

Restored To Health

The majority of persons with these disorders can be restored to health. As a rule, the patients affected are oversensitive and easily upset. They often have some unsolved problem which creates worry, anxiety or fear. In all instances an attempt must be made to find the basis for the patient's psychologic problem. Then an effort must be made to eliminate these things in any way possible.

In addition, several measures of treatment would seem to be useful. For example, quieting drugs such as phenobarbital may be given from one to three times a day. The injection or the giving by mouth of large amounts of vitamin B-1 or thiamin also acts through nervous channels and is of great help in seborrhea and excessive sweating. Ultra-violet light treatments in small doses as well as physical exercise may be useful in the more chronic cases.

Doctor Ingram points out the importance of making sure that the patients with skin disorders due to psychologic disturbances are doing the right type of work, because if they are not suited to their surroundings, the skin troubles will persist.

X-ray Treatment

X-ray treatments have been used to a great extent for these skin troubles. However, great care must be taken to be sure that an overdose is not employed. The patient should know himself how many X-ray treatments he has had.

so that if he should move and thus change physicians, further treatment will not be given because of lack of knowledge on the part of the physician as to what has been done before.

In the seborrheas, the giving of large amounts of alkalis, such as baking soda, has been found useful. An ointment containing salicylic acid and gentian violet has been employed for the severe eczemas. In excessive sweating and redness of the feet a drug known as sodium hexametaphosphate, used either as a lotion or a dusting powder, has been found effective.

Tomorrow, "Influenza."

Beginning A New Cycle

As the heavy impact of Franklin D. Roosevelt's death is cushioned in the days to come by the continuous distractions of new events and developments, it will be plainer than it has been for the last few years that change in all things is inevitable. "Observe always that everything is the result of a change," wrote Marcus Aurelius, "and get used to thinking that there is nothing Nature loves so well as to change existing forms and to make new ones like them."

With the elevation of President Truman to executive leadership of the government, the United States is in the beginning of a new cycle of political experience. Its nature is problematic. Mr. Truman's ideas have not been examined in the glare of publicity that goes with a national campaign. In the 1944 campaign, he merely reflected the political character of the head of the ticket.

He goes into office without the benefit, or perhaps it is the disadvantage, of a legend built up as a campaign background. He begins his presidency without binding commitments and without being identified closely with any one school of political philosophy. His countrymen will discover his presidential character as he goes along. That will be part of the new cycle. Even if he wanted to avert it, he could not do so.

Many of the influences which were conspicuous since 1933 and many more which were powerful without being conspicuous are simply dissolved by the change of chief executives. The men who became Mr. Roosevelt's personal advisers—semi-official figures like Harry Hopkins, Felix Frankfurter, Samuel Rosenman—will not and could not bear the same intimate relationship to Mr. Truman. Their influence was founded on personal friendship and shared habits of thought. Mr. Truman will have to find his own confidantes. Gone, too, will be the not inconsiderable influence wielded by Mrs. Roosevelt on government attitudes and actions.

In a thousand ways, the federal establishment and its complex organization throughout the country and extending into all parts of the world will have to be fitted into a new common denominator. President Truman's expressed desire to carry on with the same policies and in the same character as the late President can be at the most no more than a wish. Inevitably, the character and personality of a chief executive, as well as his principles, are stamped on the government and, subsequently, on the nation.

President Truman's modesty has become at the outset of his administration an asset of incalculable value; it is what his countrymen expect. It has won for him the sympathy and the tolerance he will need to acquit himself of great responsibility.

Japanese Jet Planes

United States bombers flying to targets in Japan now must deal defensively with jet propulsion interceptors. Possession of this ultra-modern weapon by the Japanese, even if they fail to use it with ultra-modern efficiency, will be a serious embarrassment to our bomber squadrons. In the hands of the Germans, jet propulsion interceptors, because of their almost incredible speed, have qualified as one of the most important developments of the war.

The United States is developing jet propulsion engines and planes. It has been stated officially that designs and production machinery for a successful model exist and that prototypes are being manufactured. But the fact is that jet propulsion planes were introduced in the war by the Germans and are in use by both Germany and Japan before the United States is ready to offset them with as fast or faster planes. If our aviators did not have overwhelming superiority in numbers and armament, they would be at a grave disadvantage.

Military strategists and tacticians learn by experience. So do nations. The United States has learned a lesson in this war—that Security Rule No. 1 is never to underestimate an enemy. All our troubles with the Japanese are traceable to that one fatal mistake.

War Without End

The implications of repeated warnings that Germany might never be surrendered by its fanatic governments finally are being comprehended. There has been a crushing military defeat. The German state has been invaded and made helpless. Communiques say there no longer is any organized resistance. But there is resistance, and it promises to continue indefinitely.

War without end is the grim prospect—the same kind of war that was carried on against Germany by those who refused to surrender in France, Norway, Greece, Poland and the invaded areas of Russia. This time the German nation is going to invite a continuation of hostilities after defeat. There apparently is going to be no excuse after World War II for the German threat. It will be continuous, in the way that the threat of a dangerous criminal waiting only for a chance to break out of custody is continuous.

The Stars Say

For Wednesday, April 18

A HIGHLY stimulating array of astral influences may keep the affairs of this day moving at high tempo, in which the desire to launch new and important projects might high-pressure the mentality, forces, and spirit of initiative into dangerous and difficult situations. An excess of energy or prodigality might create an undercurrent of fraud, treachery and equivocal conditions, unprofitable and exasperating. Contracts and agreements are involved, in both business and private affairs. Possibly an elderly female relation might come to the rescue; but in all, shun extravagance and over-indulgences of all types, mental, emotional, physical for success and pleasant relations.

Those whose birthday it is may find their energies and faculties under high tension, with a determination to put over major projects or keenly cherished desires and objectives, by strenuous, aggressive and telling effort. However, there are oppositions, tricky or cheating personalities and situations to meet with firmness, practical and unflinching energy, minus impetuosity, emotionalism, extravagance and excesses of all description. In crises, the aid of an elderly female relative may be counted upon. Sign all writings and agreements cautiously, and be keen with agencies or possible tricksters.

A child born on this day will have much enterprise, skill and practical ability, with determination and will power to put over important projects against treachery and fraud.

The End of Krupp

By James Thrasher

"Pulverized" was the word used to describe the condition in which the Ninth army found the Krupp munitions works when it entered Essen. But the description applies to more than a group of factories. For a name and an institution and an empire have also been blasted to dust.

For more than a century Krupp was the arm and anvil of German militarism. Its guns had ringed besieged Paris in the Franco-Prussian war. Its "Big Bertha" had been the V-bomb of World War I, firing at targets from the incredible distance of 70 miles and more.

Krupp had been a name to be feared, a symbol of German might. And then the ancient symbol was attacked by a weapon which had grown from a flimsy sort of box kite skimming the Carolina sands little more than 40 years before.

Again and again the bombers flew over the once impregnable arsenal of an impregnable country. And when the troops came to Essen they found only dust and rubble to remind them of a fearsome greatness. They found, too, a memorable and equally symbolical proof of the greatness of air power in a changing world.

Manufacturers no longer have to lay aside 50 per cent of their 5-cent candy bars for the armed forces. This should make it easier for Mother to get Sonny to go to the store.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

BY HERMAN N. BUNDENSEN, M.D.

MORE and more in recent times there has come the realization that a number of disorders are produced by nervous or psychologic disturbances. Thus, according to Doctor John T. Ingram of the University of Leeds, many persons develop skin eruptions such as seborrhea and eczema as well as excessive sweating with redness of the skin, and scaling.

Restored To Health. The majority of persons with these disorders can be restored to health. As a rule, the patients affected are oversensitive and easily upset. They often have some unsolved problem which creates worry, anxiety or fear. In all instances an attempt must be made to find the basis for the patient's psychologic problem. Then an effort must be made to eliminate these things in any way possible.

In addition, several measures of treatment would seem to be useful. For example, quieting drugs such as phenobarbital may be given from one to three times a day. The injection or the giving by mouth of large amounts of vitamin B-1 or thiamin also acts through nervous channels and is of great help in seborrhea and excessive sweating. Ultra-violet light treatments in small doses as well as physical exercise may be useful in the more chronic cases.

Doctor Ingram points out the importance of making sure that the patients with skin disorders due to psychologic disturbances are doing the right type of work, because if they are not suited to their surroundings, the skin troubles will persist.

X-ray Treatment. X-ray treatments have been used to a great extent for these skin troubles. However, great care must be taken to be sure that an overdose is not employed. The patient should know himself how many X-ray treatments he has had.

"Be Kind To Animals" Week Being Observed

Today is the third day of a week set aside each year by the American Humane association as "Be Kind To Animals Week."

The period, extending through April 21, is marked each year as a week of public education in the care and treatment of animals. The Columbiana County Humane society is urging all people to re-pledge themselves to kind treatment of pets, livestock and wildlife throughout the year.

Special observance of the week will be made throughout Salem's schools and the humane society is distributing appropriate literature.

U. S. newspapers use nearly 4,000,000 tons of paper a year.

RUSSIANS IMPORT GERMAN LABORERS

Soviets Use Enemy Labor To Help Rebuild Ruined Balkan Cities

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 17.—Soviet policy declarations calling for transportation of Germans into Russia to help clean up and rebuild war-ravaged cities have been put into effect in the Balkans.

Diplomatic information reaching Washington today disclosed: About 100,000 men and women out of the half-million Germans in Romania—where they supported the Nazi armies—have been removed to the Soviet Union. Originally Moscow wanted to take virtually the entire half-million but American and Allied intervention against such a wholesale transfer caused Russia to reconsider.

An estimated 100,000 Germans have been removed from Yugoslavia. Presumably they also were sent into Russia, but Marshal Tito and the operation himself and returned from reporting on it to the Western Allies.

Another 40,000 persons, who originally lived in Bessarabia, now Russian, have been sent back to that former Romanian province from Romania. They fled from Bessarabia before the Red army, and the Russian explanation for returning them is that they are displaced peoples being put back into their homes. This explanation has been accepted.

Problem For Truman
This problem of moving portions of enemy manpower into Russia is likely to be among the first diplomatic headaches besetting President Truman.

The subject came up at Yalta but without agreement. Later the issue was raised at a White House news conference. President Roosevelt said that after seeing the destruction of Crimean cities he thought it might be a good idea to use Germans to clean them up.

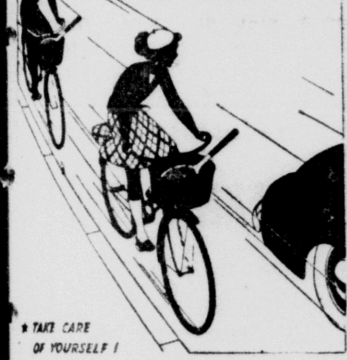

Some of Mr. Truman's advisers are known to be opposed to the Russian plan, but the belief among them is that Moscow will not be swayed from its purpose by the Western Allies.

The whole issue is part of a much broader question—that of German reparations. Despite the imminent end of the war in Europe virtually no progress has been made on this.

At last reports Isador Lubin, President Roosevelt's choice for American member of the Reparations commission to meet in Moscow, had not left Washington.

KNOW ALL RULES

USE THEM

Failure to realize that bicycles are subject to the same traffic regulations as automobiles is the cause of frequent injury and death involving bicycle "drivers". A. P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Auto club said today in announcing that schools here will be furnished the month with AAA-OSAA safety education materials designed to aid teachers prevent bicycle riding accidents involving children.

Between 400 and 500 persons are killed each year while riding on bicycles, about half of them being children 5 to 14 years old," Morris said.

Most collisions are caused by a bicycle striking a fixed object, a bicycle striking a pedestrian, a bicycle striking a moving vehicle, a motorist striking a poorly lighted bicycle, a bicyclist striking a motorist while the cyclist is weaving in and out of traffic or doing trick riding and a motorist hitting a bicycle coming into a main thoroughfare from a side street, statistics show.

Reports show that one out of every three bicycle accidents involves an automobile and that one out of every four bicycles involved in accidents was defective. The most frequent cause of fatalities involving bicyclists are improper turning, carrying extra riders, riding into an open car door and failure to have right of way.

THE AMERICAN HOUSE

By Virginia Chase

VI
WHEN we took over the American House, we had only one boarder. This was Mr. Martin Tapley, who owned the dry goods store. Mr. Tapley was a bachelor, middle-aged and growing bald. He dressed very untidily. His teeth were stained, and his skin sallow. ("That's what comes from his smoking so many cigarettes," people said, nodding wisely.) But smoking wasn't the worst of it....

He had a good business—people were careful to point out that he had inherited it—but he took it lightly, seeming not to care whether his books showed a profit or loss. He seldom appeared in his dry goods store until noon, leaving everything to his two officious clerks.

You could always count on Mr. Tapley to be contrary. He called himself a Socialist and kept a picture of Eugene Debs in his office. Whenever the Censoring Committee of the library banned a book—one by Henrik Ibsen or George Bernard Shaw or Upton Sinclair or Robert Ingersoll, for instance—he sent away and bought a copy and then carried it round openly under his arm.

Naturally, there was a lot of talk about him. People didn't approve of his never going to church. They didn't like the idea of his selling his house—it had been in the family for three generations—and moving into a hotel. There was talk, too, about the way his family lot was kept. There wasn't even a marker on his mother's grave.

Mr. Tapley's mother had been a very important person in the village. No project was ever begun without her approval or completed without her zest. She was superintendent of the Sunday School, president of the Thursday Circle, and founder of our branch of the W.C.T.U.

"What a blessing it is that she isn't alive to see the way her son has turned out," her friends said sighing.

Mr. Tapley's drinking had become almost a legend. Whiskey was like water to him. What he drank regularly—in a prohibition state—would have kept anyone else unconscious, so the story ran. Yet he boasted that no one had ever seen him drunk. Even today.

My mother was one of the few women in the village who had a good word to say for him. "I believe it that girl had stood by him," she said one day before we moved.

"What girl, Mama?" we demanded. It seemed impossible.

She was never one to gossip. "There is no point in digging up the past," she said firmly. "It was just that he had a girl who didn't dare stand up against his mother. She married someone else."

By this time we were all ears. "Who was she, Mama?"

"Was she someone from around here?"

"Now, now," she said. "I'm sorry that I ever brought it up. You just go and play some game."

But it was too late. "Just tell us if she was someone from around here, Mama."

"Just tell us if she was someone we know."

My father couldn't stand teasing. "Tell them," he said. "Now that you have gone this far."

"Well," she went on reluctantly. "But see that you don't repeat it to anyone."

We promised.

"It was Eunice Sawyer. She was Eunice Hinckley then."

"Eunice Sawyer," we gasped.

Eunice Sawyer was a plump, hearty farm woman with a husband half her size and three robust boys. They lived five miles out of the village. It was hard enough to believe any middle-aged people we knew could have ever felt romantic

But Mr. Tapley and Eunice Sawyer....

"Oh, Mama," Sue said.

"She was a real pretty girl," my mother insisted, "and I guess she makes a good wife, too."

One Saturday evening late in May Julia and I were sitting on the steps of the American House watching the farmers come in to trade. In one of the buggies that passed we recognized Luther Sawyer and Eunice, weighing down her end of the seat.

We looked at each other, remembering. Then we looked back at her. She was still pretty in a heavy, faded way. Too pretty, at least, we decided, for the little pinched man who tied the horse on the railing of the general store and without a word headed toward the barber shop.

We watched her get out, pat the horse, pick up her basket, and start off.

"Do you suppose she will go to his store?" asked Julia.

I had just been wondering that. We didn't take our eyes off her as she passed from one store to another. First the meat market, then the hardware, then the cobblers, across the street again to read the notices on the Post Office. Then toward the long line of gray buildings where the dry goods store was. Would she go in?

She didn't go in. She didn't even look in. Head up, eyes straight ahead, she went on to the bakery.

We watched the next Saturday, the next, and the next. She had gone into every store but his.

Had they met face to face since their quarrel? We wondered.

What would happen if they did? (To be continued.)

NAVY WILL RETAIN 1,191 COMBAT SHIPS

4,639 Auxiliary Craft Also Included In Post-War Program

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Navy plans for postwar retention of 1,191 combatant ships in addition to 4,639 auxiliaries and minor craft were disclosed today by the house appropriations committee.

The plans, naval leaders told the committee during hearings on the Navy's 1946 fiscal year budget, are tentative and contingent upon national policies and commitments.

Of the total to be kept, Adm. F. J. Horne, vice chief of naval operations, said 2,276 would be retained in active status and 3,554 in inactive status. The latter group would be kept in condition for active use on short notice.

Approximately 6,000 naval vessels, Horne said, will be disposed of after the war. What will be done with them, he did not say. Many, however, are slated for the scrap pile because of their age and condition. To be kept in active status, Horne told the committee, will be these categories:

Combatant ships (destroyer escorts and larger, including submarines) 482.

Auxiliaries, including large land-craft, 510.

Mine craft, including net craft, 83.

Patrol yessels, 178.

District craft, 1,023.

RUSSIANS IMPORT GERMAN LABORERS

Soviets Use Enemy Labor To Help Rebuild Ruined Balkan Cities

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 17.—Soviet policy declarations calling for transportation of Germans into Russia to help clean up and rebuild war-wrecked cities have been put into effect in the Balkans.

Diplomatic information reaching Washington today disclosed that about 19,000 men and women out of the half-million Germans in Russia—where they supported their own armies—have been returned to the Soviet Union. Originally Moscow wanted to take virtually the entire half-million but American and Allied intervention against such a wholesale transfer caused Russia to reconsider.

An estimated 100,000 Germans have been removed from Yugoslavia. Presumably they also were sent to Russia, but Marshall refused the operation himself and refused from reporting on it to Western Allies.

Another 40,000 persons, who originally lived in Bessarabia, now Russia, have been sent back to that former Romanian province from Romania. They fled from the Russian Red army, and the Russian explanation for returning them is that they are displaced peoples going back into their homes. The explanation has been accepted.

Problem For Truman

The problem of moving portions of enemy manpower into Russia is likely to be among the first diplomatic headaches besetting President Truman.

The subject came up at Yalta but evidently without agreement.

Later the issue was raised at a White House news conference. President Roosevelt said that after seeing the destruction of Crispien, he thought it might be a good idea to use Germans to clean them up.

Some of Mr. Truman's advisers are known to be opposed to the Russian plan, but the belief among diplomats is that Moscow will not be served from its purpose by the western Allies.

The whole issue is part of a much broader question—that of German reparations. Despite the imminent end of the war in Europe virtually no progress has been made on this. At last reports Isador Lubin, President Roosevelt's choice for American member of the Reparations commission to meet in Moscow, had not left Washington.

KNOW ALL RULES

USE THEM

Failure to realize that bicycles are subject to the same traffic regulations as automobiles is the cause of frequent injury and death involving bicycle "drivers". A. P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Auto club said today in announcing that schools here will be furnished this month with AAA-OSAA safety educational materials designed to aid teachers prevent bicycle riding accidents involving children.

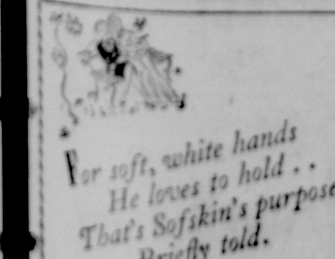

Between 400 and 500 persons are killed each year while riding on bicycles, about half of them being children 5 to 14 years old," Morris said.

Most collisions are caused by a bicycle striking a fixed object, a bicyclist striking a moving vehicle, a motorist striking a poorly lighted bicycle, a motorist hitting a bicycle while the cyclist is weaving in and out of traffic or doing trick riding and a motorist hitting a bicycle turning into a main thoroughfare from a side street, statistics show.

Reports show that one out of every three bicycle accidents involves an automobile and that one out of every four bicycles involved in accidents was defective. The most frequent cause of fatalities involving bicyclists are improper turning, carrying extra riders, riding into an open car door and failure to have right of way.

THE AMERICAN HOUSE

VI
WHEN we took over the American House, we had only one boarder. This was Mr. Martin Tapley, who owned the dry goods store. Mr. Tapley was a bachelor, middle-aged and growing bald. He dressed very untidily. His teeth were stained, and his skin sallow. ("That's what comes from his smoking so many cigarettes," people said, nodding wisely.) But smoking wasn't the worst of it....

He had a good business—people were careful to point out that he had inherited it—but he took it lightly, seeming not to care whether his books showed a profit or loss. He seldom appeared in his dry goods store until noon, leaving everything to his two officious clerks.

You could always count on Mr. Tapley to be contrary. He called himself a Socialist and kept a picture of Eugene Debs in his office. Whenever the Censoring Committee of the library banned a book—one by Henrik Ibsen or George Bernard Shaw or Upton Sinclair or Robert Ingersoll, for instance—he sent away and bought a copy and then carried it round openly under his arm.

Naturally, there was a lot of talk about him. People didn't approve of his never going to church. They didn't like the idea of his selling his house—it had been in the family for three generations—and moving into a hotel. There was talk, too, about the way his family lot was kept. There wasn't even a marker on his mother's grave.

Mr. Tapley's mother had been a very important person in the village. No project was ever begun without her approval or completed without her zest. She was superintendent of the Sunday School, president of the Thursday Circle, and founder of our branch of the W.C.T.U.

"What a blessing it is that she isn't alive to see the way her son has turned out," her friends said sighing.

Mr. Tapley's drinking had become almost a legend. Whiskey was like water to him. What he drank regularly—in a prohibition state—would have kept anyone else unconscious, so the story ran. Yet he boasted that no one had ever seen him drunk. Even today.

My mother was one of the few women in the village who had a good word to say for him. "I believe if that girl had stood by him," she said one day before we moved.

"What girl, Mama?" we demanded. It seemed impossible.

She was never one to gossip. "There is no point in digging up the past," she said firmly. "It was just that he had a girl who didn't dare stand up against his mother. She married someone else."

By this time we were all ears.

"Who was she, Mama?"

"Was she someone from around here?"

"Now, now," she said. "I'm sorry that I ever brought it up. You just go and play some game."

But it was too late.

"Just tell us if she was someone from around here, Mama."

"Just tell us if she was someone we know."

My father couldn't stand teasing. "Tell them," he said. "Now that you have gone this far."

"Well," she went on reluctantly. "But see that you don't repeat it to anyone."

We promised.

"It was Eunice Sawyer. She was Eunice Hinckley then."

"Eunice Sawyer," we gasped.

Eunice Sawyer was a plump, hearty farm woman with a husband half her size and three robust boys. They lived five miles out of the village. It was hard enough to believe any middle-aged people we knew could have ever felt romantic.

Bartholow Watches Burning of Manila; Can't Forget Sight

WITH THE 37TH INFANTRY DIVISION IN MANILA—Sergt. Ray Bartholow of Salem, Ohio, today described what he thought the most impressive sight of the Luzon campaign.

"We watched Manila burn at night as much as three days before reaching the city and naturally it caused all of us to want to receive the situation as soon as possible. Silhouetted against the sheets of flame was the huge Bonifacio monument in the center of the main entrance to the city, standing as a tribute to the Filipino's determination to remain free."

"The roads were poor because they had not been maintained since the Jap invasion. The business district lay in ruins but one could see evidences of its former handsome structures. The people of Manila were the same hospitable folks as those we encountered at Lingayen gulf. It is a sight that no one can forget who witnessed it."

Bartholow is a 34 month veteran of the 37th division, serving with it during the New Georgia, Bougainville, and Luzon campaigns.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. I. Lee Bartholow, R. D. 2, Salem.

Truer Parity Prices On Farm Products Is Asked

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Senate food investigators received a recommendation today that Congress provide "true" parity prices for all farm products.

This proposal came as a Swift and Co. executive told a house food inquiry group civilian meat supplies for the April-May-June quarter would be about 35 per cent less than for the same period last year.

A committee representing agriculture commissioners from 17 states suggested that a "simple" formula providing for parity payments be enacted. The formula would include labor costs. (Parity is designed to provide farmers with the same purchasing power they had in some past period, usually 1909-14.)

Governors Divide Opinions On Party Convention Proposal

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 17.—A poll of former governors on a proposal to establish state, district and county party conventions for endorsing candidates for primary elections showed this result today:

John W. Bricker and Myers Y. Cooper, Republicans, and Martin L. Davey, Democrat, all against it.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche has not indicated his position.

Results of the poll were made public by Sen. William M. Boyd (D.) of Cleveland, a member of the senate election committee considering the bill introduced by Sen. Roscoe R. Walcott (R.) of Columbus.

Proponents of the legislation contend it would increase "party responsibility" by imposing on a political convention the duty of recommending to the voters candidates which the delegates feel are best qualified for office.

Advocates also contend the bill would tend to decrease the number of nominees who depend upon a popular name as their principal means of appeal to the primary voters.

LEETONIA SENIOR PLAY DUE FRIDAY

LEETONIA, April 17.—The Senior class of Leetonia High school will present a three-act comedy, "Toby Helps Out," by Anne Coulter Marants, in the High school auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Friday.

THEY USED TO CALL HER FATTY

Almost unbelievable loss of weight is possible for most overweight people through a pleasant, absolutely harmless reducing method. While eating plenty, it is possible to take off as much as three to five unsightly pounds a week. No exercise or starvation diet, no reducing drugs or cathartics are necessary for those who seek to regain a graceful, youthful figure. In fact, the Tremett Way is so confidently recommended that you may try Tremett without risking a penny. You and your friends must marvel at the exciting improvement in your appearance; you must get the results you seek in 30 days, or your money will be refunded in full. Easy-to-follow directions with every package. Ask for Tremett at Peoples Drug Stores and druggists everywhere.

VITAMINS RENEW ENERGY OF WAR WORKERS

Many people, who are now engaged in strenuous war work, frequently work overtime and in some instances hold two jobs. Although they are not always aware of it, they burn up a great deal of body-energy every day. It is essential that this used-up energy be restored daily if the best work is to be done and good health maintained.

Vitamins and Minerals are exceedingly important in the diet of everyone and particularly so in the case of those who expend a great deal of energy every day. Realizing the need for more of these vital elements in the diet of the average worker, the Government took steps, long before the war, to work out a plan whereby more Vitamins and Minerals would be consumed, thus fortifying the nation physically to meet the increased war-time demands upon its strength.

Bread, being the very basis of every meal, was one of the first foods to be enriched with extra Vitamins and Minerals. The Government set certain maximum and minimum standards and the bakers cooperated by enriching their bread to the minimum. However, the Keystone Bakery was never satisfied with the low level of enrichment so Keystone Bread is enriched to the maximum, the very highest standards set by the Government which means that this extra nourishing bread has over 50% more Vitamin B1, Vitamin B2, Niacin, and Iron than the minimum requirement.

Those who work hard and use up a great deal of energy will find it to their advantage to regularly eat plenty of Keystone Bread because it contains more Vitamins and Minerals than any other bread sold in the community.—Adv.

Governors Divide Opinions On Party Convention Proposal

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, April 17.—A poll of former governors on a proposal to establish state, district and county party conventions for endorsing candidates for primary elections showed this result today:

John W. Bricker and Myers Y. Cooper, Republicans, and Martin L. Davey, Democrat, all against it.

George White and James M. Cox, Democrats, favoring it.

Harry L. Davis, Republican, and Vic Donahey, Democrat, are yet to be heard from.

Gov. Frank J. Lausche has not indicated his position.

Results of the poll were made public by Sen. William M. Boyd (D.) of Cleveland, a member of the senate election committee considering the bill introduced by Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt (R.) of Columbus.

Proponents of the legislation "entend it would increase 'party responsibility' by imposing on a political convention the duty of recommending to the voters candidates which the delegates feel are best qualified for office.

Advocates also contend the bill would tend to decrease the number of nominees who depend upon a popular name as their principal means of appeal to the primary voters.

VITAMINS RENEW ENERGY OF WAR WORKERS

Many people, who are now engaged in strenuous war work, frequently work overtime and in some instances hold two jobs. Although they are not always aware of it, they burn up a great deal of body-energy every day. It is essential that this used-up energy be restored daily if the best work is to be done and good health maintained.

Vitamins and Minerals are exceedingly important in the diet of everyone and particularly so in the case of those who expend a great deal of energy every day. Realizing the need for more of these vital elements in the diet of the average worker, the Government took steps, long before the war, to work out a plan whereby more Vitamins and Minerals would be consumed, thus fortifying the nation physically to meet the increased war-time demands upon its strength.

Bread, being the very basis of every meal, was one of the first foods to be enriched with extra Vitamins and Minerals. The Government set certain maximum and minimum standards and the bakers cooperated by enriching their bread to the minimum. However, the Keystone Bakery was never satisfied with the lower level of enrichment so Keystone Bread is enriched to the maximum, the very highest standards set by the Government which means that this extra nourishing bread has over 50% more Vitamin B1, Vitamin B2, Nicotin, and Iron than the minimum requirement.

Those who work hard and use up a great deal of energy will find it to their advantage to regularly eat plenty of Keystone Bread because it contains more Vitamins and Minerals than any other bread sold in the community.—Adv.

"Throw in a loaf of Bond Wheat Bread, and we'll take it!"

Maybe it looks like quibbling, but you can't deny the fact that Bond Wheat gives folks a new lease on life—at any rate, on that part of life which is spent eating. Looking at lots always reminds Mrs. Mover of Bond Wheat, the bread with lots and lots of flavor and goodness. Yes, Bond Wheat Bread is specially baked to give you all the delicious eating qualities, the "angel food" softness, and the tender goodness of your favorite white bread—plus the extra nutrition and the fuller flavor that can come only from the whole grain, the complete, whole kernels of golden, sun-ripened wheat. Next time, reach for Bond Wheat Bread, the bread that's specially baked for extra goodness!

Need More Red Points? Here's How!

1. When Mrs. Helen Patrick cooks, the fat container is always in a convenient spot for salvaging used fat. It is as much a part of her cooking equipment as salt or skillet.

3. Raw and cooked meat left-overs are scraped into a pan and melted down over a slow flame on top of the stove or in the oven when it is being used for baking or roasting.

4. Accumulated fats are strained to remove sediment. Used kitchen fats are invaluable for thousands of civilian and military purposes. Scrape, skim, scoop every drop.

Get more red ration stamps, by following the simple, efficient steps worked out by home economics experts. The six news pictures on this page were taken by the New York World-Telegram to show its readers the most efficient way to save every drop of used cooking fat and how to turn it in for four cents and two red ration points a pound.

Supplies of industrial fats and oils are short—your used cooking fats help fill the deficit, enabling factories to maintain top production of munitions, military medicines, and thousands of home front essentials.

6. Here, Mrs. Patrick turns her used fats over to the butcher. She receives two red ration points and four cents—but more important, she has the satisfaction of helping the war effort. Fats and oils will continue to be short until the South Pacific Islands again become fat producers.

Maybe it looks like quibbling, but you can't deny the fact that Bond Wheat gives folks a new lease on life—at any rate, on that part of life which is spent eating. Looking at lots always reminds Mrs. Mover of Bond Wheat, the bread with lots and lots of flavor and goodness. Yes, Bond Wheat Bread is specially baked to give you all the delicious eating qualities, the "angel food" softness, and the tender goodness of your favorite white bread—plus the extra nutrition and the fuller flavor that can come only from the whole grain, the complete, whole kernels of golden, sun-ripened wheat. Next time, reach for Bond Wheat Bread, the bread that's specially baked for extra goodness!

Need More Red Points? Here's How!

1. When Mrs. Helen Patrick cooks, the fat separator is always in a convenient spot for salvaging used fat. It is as much a part of her cooking equipment as salt or skillet.

3. Raw and cooked meat left-overs are scraped into a pan and melted down over a slow flame on top of the stove or in the oven when it is being used for baking or roasting.

4. Accumulated fats are strained to remove sediment. Used kitchen fats are invaluable for thousands of civilian and military purposes. Scrape, skim, scoop every drop.

5. This careful housewife puts a paper cover on her can of fat (any tin can will do) and takes it to the butcher.

Get more red ration stamps, by following the simple, efficient steps worked out by home economics experts. The six news pictures on this page were taken by the New York World-Telegram to show its readers the most efficient way to save every drop of used cooking fat and how to turn it in for four cents and two red ration points a pound.

Supplies of industrial fats and oils are short—your used cooking fats help fill the deficit, enabling factories to maintain top production of munitions, military medicines, and thousands of home front essentials.

6. Here, Mrs. Patrick turns her used fats over to the butcher. She receives two red ration points and four cents—but more important, she has the satisfaction of helping the war effort. Fats and oils will continue to be short until the South Pacific Islands again become fat producers.

Quaker Track Men Have Tough, Busy Week In Store For Them

Have Meets Today, Friday And Possibly On Saturday

Track—a sure sign of spring—will get under way officially at Reilly stadium Friday afternoon when Coach Fred E. Cope's thinclads, generally rated among the district's top teams, open their season with a dual meet against Louisville's novice outfit.

Although only four veterans grace the squad making the trip from Louisville, the Stark county team can always be counted on to produce top-notch track men, and Coach Cope is wary of his first rival.

Uncertain of just what his outfit can do this year, Cope has been grueling them with his usual arduous preparation for the opening. Veterans are not plentiful on the Quaker squad, but enough are around—along with some promising newcomers—to give Cope an encouraging outlook for the season ahead.

Seven lettermen are back this year after the graduation and war calls took the point-getters away in droves. Cope figures he lost about 55 sure meat points via graduation and draft calls.

May Go To Boardman

This week's calendar will keep the locals plenty busy. Tonight a practice session with Alliance was held at the Reilly field. Times and distances posted tonight will determine how many of the Quakers are eligible for the Boardman All-Star meet there Saturday.

Coach "Rib" Allen, former Salem track star, has set a standard for each of the 12 events slated Saturday and only those boys capable of equalling the marks are allowed to enter.

Will Try Marks Today

Coach Cope said he would enter Salemites who made the standards tonight. The Friday session with Louisville is the official opener of the season for both squads, and Saturday's affair will include representatives of both schools.

Besides Boardman, Salem and Louisville, North Lima, Youngstown South, Niles, Struthers, East Liverpool, Rayen, Canton McKinley, Lehigh, Poland, Springfield township, Fitch, Girard, East Palestine, Columbiana, Ravenna, Wellsville, Massillon and Newton Falls may enter.

The standards for events: 100-yard dash—10.3 seconds. 220-yard dash—23.6 seconds. 440-yard dash—54 seconds. Half mile—2 min. 6 seconds. Mile run—4 min. 50 seconds. 120-yard high hurdles—16.2 seconds. 220-yard low hurdles—27 seconds. Pole vault—10 feet 6 inches. High jump—5 feet 7 inches. Broad jump—19 feet 6 inches. Shot put—41 feet. Discus throw—120 feet.

The Louisville dual meet here Friday will be a 14-event affair. Cope announced, Louisville has four veterans, LeRoy Van Horn, Russell Gulling, Kenneth Gordon and Russell Raber, back from last year.

TRIBE WILL GO ON PENNANT WARPAT AT STADIUM TODAY

Expect 18,000 To Rattle Around In Lakefront Stands At Opener

(By Associated Press) CLEVELAND, April 17.—An estimated 18,000 fans will rattle around in the Sixth City's huge Lakeside Stadium today to see the Cleveland Indians hit the baseball warpath against the Chicago White Sox.

Partly cloudy skies with a bit of sunshine now and then should greet Southpaw Mayor Tom Burke when he toes the rubber to hurl the first pitch in the Tribe's fourth wartime campaign.

Only four players who participated in last year's opening game at Chicago will be in the starting Cleveland lineup today and two of them will be at different positions.

Switches Cullenbine Manager Lou Boudreau will be at short as usual and Mickey Rocco will again play first. But Pat Seery has been transferred from right to left field and Roy Cullenbine from center field to third base.

With Seery in the outfield will be Myril Hoag in center and Ed Carnett in right. Rookie Al Cihocki has been assigned to second base.

The Tribe's battery will be Allie Reynolds, 1943 American league strikeout king, with either Jim McDonnell or Hank Ruszkowski behind the plate.

The Indians will face the slants of veteran Thornton "Lefty" Lee, 37-year-old former Wigwam inmate, pitching his first opening day game. Both hurlers will be testing arms which were of little use to their clubs last year.

Into the Picture

Sixteen Well-Conditioned Major League Teams Begin 1945 Pennant Races Today

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 17.—Sixteen well-conditioned major league clubs were ready to open a fourth wartime baseball season today before approximately 150,000 fans.

Presidents Ford Frick of the National league and Will Harridge of the American league have forecast tight pennant races and there was every indication neither the Cardinals nor Browns, favored to make it another All-St. Louis World Series, would have any cinch.

Luke Sewell's Browns, who had to go down to the last day of the 1944 season before they could shake off Detroit, were to meet the Tigers at Sportsman's park while the Cardinals invaded Chicago, a club expected to be up in the flag chase. Cool weather was expected all around the circuits.

Most clubs came up to the barrier from spring training without serious injuries. Exceptions were Cincinnati which lost its ace shortstop, Eddie Miller, due to a broken knee cap; the New York Giants whose Joe Medwick was sidelined with an ailing back; and the Boston Braves whose hold-over shortstop, Whitey Wietelmann, had the first two joints of a finger amputated.

Some Absent

Among the better known absentees were holdout pitcher Ernie Bonham of the New York Yankees, first baseman Hal Trosky of the Chicago White Sox who is staying out this year, infielder Pete Coscarart of Pittsburgh remaining in a war job and outfielder Jeff Heath, who agreed to terms but then decided not to report to Cleveland.

War jobs make several other regulars become part-time players and imminent service call kept others close to home. The Cooper boys finally called off their "strike" and reported to the Cards in Chicago.

The acid test arrived for such highly-publicized rookies as Pete Gray of the Browns, Red Schoendienst of the Cards, Joe Buzar of the Yankees, Marino Piretti of the Senators, Bobby Miller of the Tigers, the Hammer brothers of the Phillies and Hal Peck of the Athletics.

Largest crowd of the day was expected at Cincinnati where a sell-out throng of about 30,000 was due to watch the hard-hit Reds open against Frankie Frisch's Pirates. Many observers bat Pittsburgh as the team to end St. Louis' three-year reign.

Bums Draw Most

Brooklyn was counted on for 20,000 despite the Dodgers' poor spring record. The Phillies, bolstered by the purchase of Vince DiMaggio and Whit Wyatt, furnished the opposition. Mel Ott's New York Giants, who would have had an entire holdover starting nine if Medwick were in shape to play, were to test Bob Coleman's Braves at Boston.

Postponement of yesterday's Presidential game in Washington pushed back the New York Yankees' first tilt to today and gave new President Harry Truman a chance to open at home against the Boston Red Sox who showed surprising spring strength despite wholesale losses to the draft, Washington hit the road to Philadelphia for a three-day stand at the Memorial game for Franklin D. Roosevelt was rescheduled for Friday at Griffith stadium.

MacPhail's Aid A Movie Man

New Assistant Has Movie History As Well As Background From Organized Baseball

NEW YORK—Tom Gallery, just named aid to President Larry MacPhail of the Yankees, is a native of Chicago, who started to study for holy orders, but changed his mind following World War I. Gallery, 45, fought with a tank outfit in the Blackhawk and Rainbow divisions.

The war won, Gallery migrated to comedienne Zazu Pitts and directed pictures. He was once married to professional football in Hollywood and Los Angeles, became general manager of the Brooklyn Tigers last year. The Brooklyn football franchise is owned by Capt. Dan Topping, a partner of Larry MacPhail in the purchase of the Yankees.

Sixteen Well-Conditioned Major League Teams Begin 1945 Pennant Races Today

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, April 17.—Sixteen well-conditioned major league clubs were ready to open a fourth wartime baseball season today before approximately 150,000 fans.

Presidents Ford Frick of the National league and Will Harridge of the American league have forecast tight pennant races and there was every indication neither the Cardinals nor Browns, favored to make it another All-St. Louis World Series, would have any cinch.

Luke Sewell's Browns, who had to go down to the last day of the 1944 season before they could shake off Detroit, were to meet the Tigers at Sportsman's park while the Cardinals invaded Chicago, a club expected to be up in the flag chase. Cool weather was expected all around the circuits.

Most clubs came up to the barrier from spring training without serious injuries.

Exceptions were Cincinnati which lost its ace shortstop, Eddie Miller, due to a broken knee cap; the New York Giants whose Joe Medwick was sidelined with an ailing back; and the Boston Braves whose hold-over shortstop, Whitely Wietelmann, had the first two joints of a finger amputated.

Some Absent

Among the better known absentees were holdout Pitcher Ernie Bonham of the New York Yankees; First Baseman Hal Trosky of the Chicago White Sox who is staying out this year, Infielder Pete Coscarart of Pittsburgh remaining in a war job and Outfielder Jeff Heath, who agreed to terms but then decided not to report to Cleveland.

War jobs make several other regulars become part-time players and imminent service call kept others close to home. The Cooper boys and finally called off their "strike" and reported to the Cards in Chicago.

The acid test arrived for such highly-publicized rookies as Pete Gray of the Browns, Red Schoendienst of the Cards, Joe Buzar of the Yankees, Marino Pieretti of the Senators, Bobby Maier of the Tigers, the Hanner brothers of the Phillies and Hal Peck of the Athletics.

Largest crowd of the day was expected at Cincinnati where a sell-out throng of about 30,000 was due to watch the hard-hit Reds open against Frankie Frisch's Pirates. Many observers tab Pittsburgh as the team to end St. Louis' three-year reign.

Bums Draw Most

Brooklyn was counted on for 20,000 despite the Dodgers' poor spring record. The Phillies, bolstered by the purchase of Vince DiMaggio and Whit Wyatt, furnished the opposition. Mel Ott's New York Giants, who would have had an entire holdover starting nine if Medwick were in shape to play, were to test Bob Coleman's Braves at Boston.

Postponement of yesterday's Presidential game in Washington pushed back the New York Yankees' first tilt to today and gave new President Harry MacPhail a chance to open at home against the Boston Red Sox who showed surprising spring strength despite wholesale losses to the draft. Washington

MISS CLARA A. ZIMMERMAN

Miss Clara A. Zimmerman, 85, died at 3:40 a. m. today at the home of her niece, Mrs. Helen Carroll, 89 Meadowbrook ave., Youngstown, with whom she had lived for three years. She had been ill for eight weeks.

A daughter of Conrad and Martha Zimmerman she was born Feb. 9, 1860, in Green township, Mahoning county.

She is survived by one sister, Miss Viola Zimmerman of Greenford, besides several nieces and nephews.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Rev. G. D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church. Interment will be in the Washingtonville cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday evening at the funeral home.

EDWARD B. HUFFMAN

LISBON, April 17.—Edward B. Huffman, 90, a retired farmer who had spent all his life in this vicinity, died at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the home of his son, Wade, in Elkton. He had been ill about a week.

Born in Elkton Feb. 13, 1855, he was the son of Adam and Sarah Huffman. He was a charter member of the Elkrun grange and a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving, besides his son, are three sons, Frank and Howard of East Liverpool and Sprague of Lisbon; eight grandchildren; four great-grandchildren and 14 nieces and nephews. His wife died several years ago.

Funeral service will be held at the Wade Huffman home in Elkton at 2 p. m. Thursday. Burial will be in the Lisbon cemetery.

Friends may call at the home Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Fatalism is the doctrine that all things happen according to a pre-arranged fate, necessity or inexorable decree.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie

"The Red army, fulfilling its great liberative mission, is waging war for the liquidation of Hitler's army. The Soviet government never has and does not have as its aim the extermination of the German people. This would be stupid and unthinkable. The Soviet people have never considered as one and the same the German population and the criminal Nazi clique ruling Germany."

Reports from the war theatres have indicated the Red armies have been careful in their treatment of the people as German territory has been occupied. Few will be naive enough to think that either the Russians or the Western Allies are going to hang daisy-chains about the necks of the Germans and dance around the May-pole with them. However, the general German public appears to be faring better than all right.

There are several reasons why Hitler has been holding the Russian front in much greater strength than that in the west. For one thing, he has created so much fear of the Russians in the public mind that a break-through along the Eastern front might cause a collapse of morale in the Reich.

Then there is another point which George Alexandroff makes. He says the Nazis are hating their western front to the Soviet's Allies and concentrating forces on the Eastern front as a gigantic political trick designed to create dissension among the United Nations. That could be so.

Columbus Man Is Named Head of Ceramics Group

BUFFALO, April 17.—C. Forrest Tefft, president of the Claycraft Co. is the new president of the American Ceramic Society Inc.

Other officers installed at the society's 47th annual meeting are J. Edward Hansen of Cleveland, vice president; John D. Sullivan, treasurer; and Russ C. Purdy, general secretary and editor, both of Columbus, O.

Edwin N. Fritz of Latrobe, Pa., the retiring president, told the meeting he expected postwar competition of ceramic products with metal for peacetime markets. He said:

"Developments are underway that will make it possible to produce many new electronic devices for peacetime in which ceramics will be a vital component."

EISENHOWER SEES V-E DAY FAR OFF

By LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON, April 17.—A statement by Gen. Eisenhower that there will be no announcement of V-E day "until all important enemy pockets on the Western front have been wiped out" indicated today that the formal end of the war in Europe may be weeks, if not months, away.

The Allied supreme commander told a group of American correspondents yesterday that the war in Europe probably will not end until Allied troops have occupied the Reich completely.

Reiterating his belief that these would not be a formal German surrender, Eisenhower added:

"Nazi units, including divisions, corps, armies and finally army groups will give up separately as they exhaust their ammunition and gasoline, or find themselves hopelessly trapped by Allied encirclement."

Eisenhower's statement might mean no V-E day proclamation will be issued until after Adolf Hitler and his Nazi cohorts are rooted from their mountain redoubt in Bavaria into which they are reportedly streaming for a death stand.

Military men have estimated that it may take months to reduce Hitler's gragger fortress.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 17.—Profit cashing stemmed the stock market bulge today and, while rails and assorted industrials continued to advance, many recent climbers backed into the minus column.

Buying psychology still was based mainly on growing confidence in the new Washington administration, dividends, earnings and the belief that post-war prosperity was an odds-on bet. Caution was inspired by the jump of the averages to best levels since 1937 on the largest volume in 10 months.

Supported were Chrysler, Great Northern, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Goodrich, Sears-Roebuck, Consolidated Edison, International

Bulk of Roosevelt Estate Left In Trust

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 17.—A will of the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt provides trust funds for his family, several bequests to individuals and institutions, and a considerable legacy of personal possessions for the United States government.

The will, executed Nov. 12, 1941, was filed yesterday in Dutchess county surrogate's court at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and was made public in New York by the law firm of O'Connor and Farber.

There was no valuation placed upon the assets of the estate, although Mr. Roosevelt inherited nine-tenths of a net estate of $1,089,872 upon the death in September, 1941, of his mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt.

The late President bequeathed to his widow, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, all the income from a trust fund to be set up from his residuary estate. Upon her death, his children or their heirs will receive equally one-half of the remaining principal with any accumulations.

Separate trusts will be created from the other half and will be held for the benefit of the children and grandchildren.

Workers Return To Jobs At Three Akron Plants

AKRON, April 17.—Operations at three Akron rubber plants, plagued by fitful work stoppages the past few days, struggled toward normal today as idle workers poured back to their jobs.

Full production was expected at the Goodrich Synthetic Corp. plant today after a one-day walkout resulting from the transfer of several workers in the finishing department.

Negro mill room workers at the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co.'s No. 1 plant returned to their jobs last night for the second time in less than 12 hours. The men first

MISS CLARA A. ZIMMERMAN

Miss Clara A. Zimmerman, 85, died at 3:40 a. m. today at the home of her niece, Mrs. Helen Carroll, 89 Meadowbrook ave., Youngstown, with whom she had lived for three years. She had been ill for eight weeks.

A daughter of Conrad and Martha Zimmerman she was born Feb. 9, 1860, in Green township, Mahoning county.

She is survived by one sister, Miss Viola Zimmerman of Greenford, besides several nieces and nephews.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Rev. G. D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran church. Interment will be in the Washingtonville cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday evening at the funeral home.

EDWARD B. HUFFMAN

LISBON, April 17.—Edward B. Huffman, 90, a retired farmer who had spent all his life in this vicinity, died at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the home of his son, Wade, in Elkton. He had been ill about a week.

Born in Elkton Feb. 13, 1855, he was the son of Adam and Sarah Huffman. He was a charter member of the Elkton grange and a member of the Methodist church.

Surviving, besides his son, are three sons, Frank and Howard of East Liverpool and Sprague of Lisbon; eight grandchildren; four great-grandchildren and 14 nieces and nephews. His wife died several years ago.

Funeral service will be held at the Wade Huffman home in Elkton at 2 p. m. Thursday. Burial will be in the Lisbon cemetery.

Friends may call at the home Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Fatalism is the doctrine that all things happen according to a pre-arranged fate, necessity or inexorable decree.

The War Today

By DeWitt MacKenzie

"The Red army, fulfilling its great liberative mission, is waging war for the liquidation of Hitler's army. The Soviet government never has and does not have as its aim the extermination of the German people. This would be stupid and unthinkable. The Soviet people have never considered as one and the same the German population and the criminal Nazi clique ruling Germany."

Reports from the war theatres have indicated the Red armies have been careful in their treatment of the people as German territory has been occupied. Few will be naive enough to think that either the Russians or the Western Allies are going to hang daisy-chains about the necks of the Germans and dance around the May-pole with them. However, the general German public appears to be faring better than all right.

There are several reasons why Hitler has been holding the Russian front in much greater strength than that in the west. For one thing, he has created so much fear of the Russians in the public mind that a break-through along the Eastern front might cause a collapse of morale in the Reich.

Then there is another point which George Alexandroff makes. He says the Nazis are baring their western front to the Soviet's Allies and concentrating forces on the Eastern front as a gigantic political trick designed to create dissension among the United Nations. That could be so.

Columbus Man Is Named

Head of Ceramics Group BUFFALO, April 17.—C. Forrest Tefft, president of the Claycraft Co., is the new president of the American Ceramic Society Inc.

Other officers installed at the society's 47th annual meeting are J. Edward Hansen of Cleveland, vice president; John D. Sullivan, treasurer; and Russ C. Purdy, general secretary and editor, both of Columbus, O.

Edwin N. Fritz of Latrobe, Pa., the retiring president, told the meeting he expected postwar competition of ceramic products with metal for peacetime markets. He said:

"Developments are underway that will make it possible to produce many new electronic devices for peacetime in which ceramics will be a vital component."

EISENHOWER SEES V-E DAY FAR OFF

By LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON, April 17.—A statement by Gen. Eisenhower that there will be no announcement of V-E day "until all important enemy pockets on the Western front have been wiped out" indicated today that the formal end of the war in Europe may be weeks, if not months, away. The Allied supreme commander told a group of American correspondents yesterday that the war in Europe probably will not end until Allied troops have occupied the Reich completely.

Reiterating his belief that these would not be a formal German surrender, Eisenhower added: "Nazi units, including divisions, corps, armies and finally army groups will give up separately as they exhaust their ammunition and gasoline, or find themselves hopelessly trapped by Allied encirclement."

Eisenhower's statement might mean no V-E day proclamation will be issued until after Adolf Hitler and his Nazi cohorts are routed from their mountain redoubt in Bavaria into which they are reportedly streaming for a death stand. Military men have estimated that it may take months to reduce Hitler's ragged forces.

Nicklason Reinstated As V. F. W. Commander

Installation of officers, acceptance of eight new members and plans for the coming year featured a meeting of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at the post rooms Sunday. J. A. Nicklason, commander for the past three years, was re-installed along with a complete staff of officers, elective and appointive.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, April 17.—Profit cashing stemmed the stock market bulge today and, while rails and assorted industrials continued to advance, many recent climbers backed into the minus column.

Buying psychology still was based mainly on growing confidence in the new Washington administration, dividends, earnings and the belief that post-war prosperity was an odds-on bet. Caution was inspired by the jump of the averages to best levels since 1937 on the largest volume in 10 months.

Supported were Chrysler, Great Northern, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Goodrich, Sears-Roebuck, Consolidated Edison, International

Bulk of Roosevelt Estate Left In Trust

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 17.—A will of the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt provides trust funds for his family, several bequests to individuals and institutions, and a considerable legacy of personal possessions for the United States government.

The will, executed Nov. 12, 1941, was filed yesterday in Dutchess county surrogate's court at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and was made public in New York by the law firm of O'Connor and Farber.

There was no valuation placed upon the assets of the estate, although Mr. Roosevelt inherited nine-tenths of a net estate of $1,089,872 upon the death in September, 1941, of his mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt.

The late President bequeathed to his widow, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, all the income from a trust fund to be set up from his residuary estate. Upon her death, his children or their heirs will receive equally one-half of the remaining principal with any accumulations. Separate trusts will be created from the other half and will be held for the benefit of the children and grandchildren.
